Victorian Tumour Summits

Do you ever think things could be better for patients with brain cancer?

Are you a member of a brain cancer MDM?

This event is a tumour-specific forum hosted by Victorian Tumour Summits in collaboration with the Department of Health and Human Services, Victorian Integrated Cancer Services, and Cancer Council Victoria – Clinical Network.

Clinicians are invited to discuss data trends in diagnosis, treatment planning and care for public and private patients with brain cancer living in different regions of Victoria.

This is your chance to agree on short-term priorities for local action, to be supported by Victorian Integrated Cancer Services. See the high-grade glioma optimal care pathway for standards of care.

Join the conversation and help make a difference by contributing your expertise!

Discussion topics include:

- consumer experience and consumer-agreed opportunities for improvement
- incidence and survival
- treatment outcomes
- treatment pathways for brain cancer.

The Brain Cancer 2020 Summit clinical working party, co-chaired by Professors Andrew Danks and Hui Gan, oversees state-wide data that informs summit discussion.
